Responsibilities / Task Assignments

[illegible]

Consequences

Develop a list of consequences appropriate for team members breaking the ground rules your team has established and what could be done to re-establish team cohesion. They should be reasonable, enforceable, and agreed to by all team members.

Consider both warnings and treatment of on-going issues

Divorce Clause:

The group leader will determine if each member of the group is meeting their individual obligation and may warn the member(s) of poor contributions. When a group member(s) continuously causes group dysfunction, the leader and offending member(s) must meet with the professor. When a group member(s) chooses not to meet the minimum expectations of positive group cohesion, or fails to attend group-teacher meetings, that member(s) will receive a grade of 0 (zero) for the group assignment and be removed from the group. The professor has the final decision-making responsibility for group divorce.
